SUPPLEMENT

The Genealogist of New York City, who gave us the ancestors of Reuben Courtright, said he could not establish the connection between our Jan and Jan, the first Immigrant, but while searching in the genealogical department of the state library at Des Moines, Iowa, in January 1916, we discovered the following in Vol. 5 of Colonial Families of United States by George Norbury Mackensie.

The first of this family (Courtright) of whom we have record was one Bastiaen or Sebastian of Kortryk, Flanders in 1586. He afterwards moved to Leerdam, Holland, where his two children were born.

Jan Bastiaensen Kortryk, b. 1618.
Michiel Kortryk, b. 1620.

Jan Bastiaensen Van Kortryk, of Leerdam, Holland, b. 1618, moved to the village of Beest farther up the Linge, where all his children were born. He came to America as stated in the Introduction. He bot a brewery on Staten Island, but soon sold it and purchased a piece of land at Kingsbridge. His wife's name is unknown.

His children were:

Cornelius Van Kortryk, b. 1645; d. 1689.
Hendrick Jansen Van Kortryk, b. 1648.
Laurens Jansen Van Kortryk, b. 1651.
Beltie Van Kortryk, b. 1659.

Hendrick Jansen Van Beest, later called Hendrick Jansen Van Kortryk, of Esopus, N. Y., b. in Beest, Holland, came to America with his father and bot land near Stuyvesant's Bowery, Feb. 12, 1669, but did not long hold it, he and brother Laurens going to Esopus, where he m. Catherine Haws. All their children were baptised in Reformed Dutch Church in New York City.

Their children were:

John or Jan Kortryk, b. at Harlem, N. Y., 1674, bot land at Montbackus, where he raised a large family, having m. Maria Vrendenburg. (See page 11.)
Hendrick Van Kortryk, b. 1677. (His descent is given in above mentioned book.)
Cornelius Van Kortryk, b. 1696.
Geertie Van Kortryk, b. 1682.
Arie Van Kortryk, b. 1684.
Antie Van Kortryk, b. 1686.
Laurence Van Kortryk, b. 1688.
Jacob Van Kortryk, b. 1692.
Peter Van Kortryk, b. 1696.
Catherine Van Kortryk, b. 1699.

INTRODUCTION

---

Dear Cousins All :—

It is with pleasure that we present to you this little book. We have tried to make it a complete record of the grandchildren of Rheuben Courtright, but have not quite reached the mark. We have written many letters, hired work done by a genealogist, and searched thru the records in the genealogical department of the State Library at Des Moines, but still we have not obtained all the information we had hoped to get.

We wish to say here, that much credit must be given to Mrs. Josephine Shively of Peoria, Illinois, and Mrs. Enma Bills of Sterling, Illinois, for help given us; if it had not been for their untiring zeal, we never would have been able to finish this record.

Of the twenty-one children of Rheuben Courtright, only three are now living; one never married and four died in infancy. Of the eighty grandchildren, twenty-six are now alive, seven never married, fourteen died young and six never had any children. We have the record of eight pairs of twins. Rheuben had one, one pair is among the grandchildren, three in the great grandchildren, and three among the great-great grandchildren.

We were not able to learn anything authentic in regard to the families of Rheuben Courtright's mother or his father's mother. We found the parents of several Margaret Westfalls and Elizabeth Kools, but, as their connection with the Courtright's could not be established for a certainty, we did not put them in, as we have nothing in this record we do not consider authentic.

We are not perfectly satisfied with the result of our six years' of work on this record, but hope it will please you and that you will prize it more and more as the years pass and remember that each and every one of you will always have a warm place in our hearts for the help you have given us in getting this book ready, as our main object was a selfish one; we wanted it for our own children, great-great grandchildren of Rheuben Courtright.

Yours truly,
PARDON HEAD,
HARRIETT HEAD.

Liscomb, Iowa, October, 1915.

ORIGIN

In regard to the origin of the name Courtright, Samuel W. Courtright in his book (1907), History of the Courtright Family, claims that they are descended from a Spanish nobleman, Cortez, who was converted to Protestantism under John Calvin, and, on account of the persecutions in Spain, he, with many followers, emigrated to Flanders in Holland and settled on the river Lys, and there they builded a city and named it for their leader, Kortryk, the Dutch way of spelling and pronouncing Cortez. They lived there and prospered for a hundred years or more, then, tiring of the constant warfare on account of their religion, they emigrated to the New Harlaam in America.

On April 16, 1663, Jan or John Bastiansen Kortregt, his three sons and daughter, with their families, together with his brother Micheal and his family, with others, took passage in the good ship Brindled Cow, Jan Bergen, master, and set sail for America.

Altho an exhaustive search has been made, the connection between this first immigrant and Jan, the first ancestor of Rheuben that we have, has not been established.

In the last years of the eighteenth century the name Kortryk was so far Anglecized as to be spelled Kortright. Not much attention was paid to spelling in those days and we find it written in many different ways. After the Revolution it was changed to Courtright, but all Cortrights, Cutrights, Cartrights and Cartwrights are descended from the original Cortez or Kortryk.

HISTORY

---

In Orange County, New York, at one time the Protestant Dutch Reformed Church was powerful in political affairs. Only magistrates of the church could hold office and the Lutherans were not allowed to worship or even baptize their infants.

The ancestors of Rheuben Courtright evidently lived in this county, as the names of three children of Jan are found in the list of baptisms of the Kingston Reformed Church.

The Kingston church was organized under the name of the town of Orange, October 24, 1694. The center of the tract or township was Tappan, where a Glebe for the support of the minister was laid out.

The Minissink-Machackmack church, where the baptisms of the next generation are found, was established in 1737, near an Indian burying ground in what is now Port Jervis, New York. All that valley from Kingston, New York, to Warren, New Jersey, was called Minissink, the name being given it by the early Dutch traders, and it was occupied by the Indian tribe Minis, and composed the land drained by the upper waters of the Delaware.

The first white settler in the tract was William Teitsoort, his deed being dated April 10, 1708. He was a blacksmith and was welcomed by the Indians. Later the whites were harassed, because, as other early settlers did, they took advantage of the Indians when they bought the land. They were to have as much land as a man could walk around in a day, but he ran instead of walked; then the whites caused the Indians to become intoxicated and they did not pay the full price agreed upon.

SOLDIERS

is state-new

None of the descendents of Rheuben Courtright now living know whether or not any of his ancestors served in the Revolution, (and as the records of New Jersey were burned at the sacking of Washington in the War of 1812) such information will never be obtainable.

Of the descendants of Rheuben Courtright, one son, six grandsons, one son-in-law and four grandsons-in-law served in the Civil War on the Northern side and one son on the side of the South.

The son who served the South was Isaac Bedell Courtright (No. 21), having married a Southern woman and living in South Carolina. Not knowing how to learn the particulars of his service, we cannot tell anything of it. Little is known of him after he left Sterling, Illinois, in the early '60s, but it is that he is buried at Jacksonville, Florida.

Of those on the Northern side, the son Samuel (No. 31), served but a short time, as he gave his life for his country. He enlisted September 3, 1862, at Newark, New Jersey, in Co. A, 27th N. J. Inf., and died in Emory Hospital, Washington, D. C., November 17, 1862, and is buried in Arlington cemetery.

The son-in-law was William Howard (No. 37). He served four years and five months as Corp. of Co. G, 39th Ills. Inf. and as flag bearer; being wounded twice, once very severely, but escaped many times, although the men at his side received the bullet aimed at him.

Of the grandsons, four were the sons of Phoebe (No. 20), one of Catherine (No. 22), and one of Jane (No. 24). Of the grandsons-in-law, one was Phoebe's, two Jane's and one Margaret's (No. 26).

Phoebe Courtright Decker's four sons were: James Rheuben (No. 41), Peter (No. 44), Joshua (No. 45), and George M. (No. 46), and the son-in-law was Wesson Wilbur (No. 48). Peter was the only one who lost his life, being wounded at Dutch Gap; he died at Fort Monroe, October 19, 1864. Peter and his brother Joshua were privates in Co. H, 96th N. Y., and enrolled January 1, 1864. Joshua was mustered out at City Point, Virginia, February 6, 1866. George M. Decker was in the 109th N.Y., enlisting in August, 1862, serving two years and eleven months. James Rheuben was in Co. K, 179th N. Y. The son-in-law, Wesson Wilbur, was in Co. C, 14th N. Y. Heavy Artillery.

Catherine Courtright Woolley's son, Miles T. Woolley (No. 57), and Jane Courtright Siddles' son-in-law, Warren Young (No. 63), were in the same company, the latter enlisting in August and the former in September, 1862 in Co. C, 75th Ills. Inf. Warren Young was killed in January, 1863, and Miles T. Woolley was wounded in November, 1862, in the left forearm and received an honorable discharge.

Jane Courtright Siddle's son James (No. 61) and son-in-law, Jabez W. Todd (No. 66) were together all thru the war in Co. K, 15th Ills. Inf. They enlisted at Mt. Carroll, Ills., April 27, 1861, and were mustered into service the following month at Freeport, Ills. They were under General Grant and were in seventeen battles, among them being Shiloh, Fort Donaldson, Vicksburg and the Siege of Jackson, Mississippi. Their captain was Adam Nase and commander Thomas J. Turner. They served their full time, three years, and were honorably discharged June 14, 1864.

Margaret Courtright Woolley's son-in-law, Jacob Ernst (No. 79), was also in the service, but we were not able to get any of his record.

EXPLANATIONS

Each person has a number. Wishing to find any one particular person, look in the index and that will tell you his number; then look for that number in the small type. If there is a — after the number, you will find more about him in the next generation; if there is no —, all that we know about him is there; b. means born, d. died, m. married, and dau. daughter.

THE FAMILIES

---

First Generation.

1. Jan Kortregt m. Maria Vredenburg.

Maria Vredenburg was the dau. of William Isaacson Vredenburg from The Hague, who married in New York, October 19, 1664, Appolonia Barentse, dau. of Barent Jacobson Cool. Vredenburg was a soldier in the service of the West Indies Company. He settled in Esopus, now Ulster County, New York, near Kingston, where two of his children were baptised: Abraham Vredenburg, January 27, 1682; Jannatje Vredenburg, April 6, 1684.

The three children, whose baptisms are found in the Kingston Church Records, are:

2. Hendrik Kortregt, bap. July 1, 1704.
3. Appolonia Kortregt, bap. August 11, 1706.
- 4—Arien Kortregt, bap. September 11, 1709.

Second Generation.

4. Arie or Arien Kortright (Jan 1), bap. at Kingston, New York, September 11, 1709; m. Elizabeth Kool (Cole).

They had seven children, the first one recorded in the Kingston Dutch Reformed Church, and the rest in the Minissink-Machackmack church records.

5. Johannes Kortright, bap. June 18, 1734.
6. Lydia Kortright, bap. November 1, 1738; prob. died young.
7. Elizabeth Kortright, bap. June 17, 1740.
8. Cathrina Kortright, bap. May 3, 1743.
9. Samuel Kortright, bap. May 19, 1745; prob. died young.
10. Lydia Kortright, bap. February 22, 1747.
- 11.—Samuel Kortright, bap. September 10, 1749.

Third Generation.

11. Samuel Cortright (Jan. 1, Arie 4), bap. at Kingston, New York, September 10, 1749; d. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, July 1, 1828; m. Margruetje or Gretje Westfall (Westfail, Westvale, etc.); d. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, February 15, 1822.

Samuel Cortright undoubtedly moved to Sussex Co., New Jersey, before 1785, as there is a deed on file in that county, dated October 8, 1785, conveying a farm of 75 acres from Elizabeth Cortright to Samuel and Petrus Cortright, "said parties then occupying the land."

The names of the first three children were obtained from relatives now living and the other four from the baptismal records of the Minissink-Machackmack Dutch Reformed Church at what is now Port Jervis, New York, but the order is uncertain.

12. Aaron Cortright, buried in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey.

13. John Cortright, buried at same place.

14. Daniel Cortright, b. 1770; d. March 14, 1827; m. and had son, Daniel, who lived at Boone, Iowa.

15. Elisabeth Cortright, bap. November 25, 1776.

16. Lydia Cortright, bap. November 1, 1780; buried at Smithbury, New York; m. Elijah Bennett, had son, Elijah.

17.—Rheuben Cortright, b. April 23, 1790.

18. Petrus Cortright, b. June 28, 1798; bap. October 14, 1807.

Fourth Generation.

17. Rheuben Cortright (Jan. 1, Arie 4, Samuel 11), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, April 23, 1790; bap. July 25, 1790; d. in New Genesee twp., Whiteside Co., Illinois, August 8, 1875, buried in Hickory Grove cemetery; m. 1st in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, October 9, 1808, Deborah Bedell, b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, April 30, 1790; d. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, March 18, 1827, buried there; m. 2nd in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, April, 1830, Elizabeth Van Etten, b. August 10, 1812; d. at her home two miles southeast of Coleta, Whiteside Co., Illinois, October 26, 1890, dau. of John Van Etten and Mary Petron.

The search for the parentage of Deborah Bedell was without definite results, but the following, found in Genealogies by John Littel, may refer to her ancestors: Henry Bedell lived in the Passaic Valley, his first wife's name was Sutton, by whom he had two children, John, who married Deborah Mulford, dau. of Capt. John Mulford, and Henry, who went to Sussex Co., married and raised a family there. Deborah had a brother, John Bedell, who d. in the 1890s, and a sister Elizabeth, who d. February 29, 1900, and m. 1st Aaron Bennett; 2nd Abram Rosenkrans, by whom she had a dau., who m. Dr. T. H. Stetler, who lives at Paw Paw, Illinois.

Elizabeth Van Etten's father served in the Revolutionary Army. She had two brothers, John and James Van Etten, and a sister, Sarah Van Etten, who was b. July 15, 1804. Elizabeth became a member of the Christian church in 1872 and lived ever after a consistent, religious life. She died of paralysis and was buried by the side of her husband in Hickory Grove cemetery.

Rheuben Cortright and his family lived in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, and all his children were born there, on the farm which he owned. In the spring of 1855 he moved with part of his children to Whiteside Co., Illinois, where several of his children, being married, had preceded him, and settled on his own farm in New Genesee twp. and lived there the remainder of his life.

He had eleven children by his first wife and ten by the second, the baptism of the first three being recorded in the Dutch Reformed Church at what is now Port Jervis, New York.

19. Peter Cortright, b. November 1, 1809; bap. November 18, 1813; d. in Whiteside Co., Illinois, of cancer, July 28, 1874, buried in Hickory Grove cemetery; unm.

20.—Pheby Cortright, b. January 11, 1811.

21.—Isaac Bedell Cortright, b. April 18, 1813.

22.—Catherine Cortright, b. January 7, 1815.

23.—Lucinda Cortright, b. April 30, 1816.

24.—Jane Cortright, b. May 27, 1818.

25.—William H. Cortright, b. April 26, 1820.

26.—Margaret Cortright, b. February 6, 1822.

27.—John Cortright, b. October 10, 1823.

28.—Deborah Elizabeth Cortright, } b. March 18, 1827.

29. Mary Cortright, } b. March 18, 1827; d. at once.

30. Benjamin Cortright, b. July 22, 1831; d. January 23, 1833.

31.—Samuel Cortright, b. July 13, 1833.

32.—Mary Elizabeth Cortright, b. October 11, 1835.

33. William H. Cortright, b. November 21, 1837; d. April 12, 1845.

34.—Levi Cortright, b. January 27, 1840.

35.—George T. Cortright, b. September 14, 1843.

36. Partial Cortright, b. August 7, 1845; d. young.

37.—Lydia Ann Cortright, b. August 22, 1848.

38.—Josephine Cortright, b. October 20, 1850.

39.—Aaron D. Cortright, b. December 2, 1852.

Fifth Generation.

20. Phoebe Cortright (Jan. 1, Arie 4, Samuel 11, Rheuben 17), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, January 11, 1811; bap. in Minissink Dutch Reformed Church, November 18, 1813; d. at Union Center, Broom Co., New York, May 13, 1890; m. in Sussex Co., New Jersey, Thomas Decker, b. in Sussex Co., New Jersey, January 14, 1807; d. at Union Center, Broom Co., New York, August 4, 1888.

Thomas Decker was a farmer and the last ten years of their lives they lived at Union Center, New York. Both were members of the M. E. Church.

They had thirteen children, all were born in Sussex Co., New Jersey, except the last one, and he was born in Susquehanna Co., Pennsylvania.

40.—Catherine J. Decker, b. December 1, 1832.

41.—James Rheuben Decker, b. March 8, 1836.

42.—Margaret Ann Decker, b. October 16, 1837.

43. Amanda Decker, b. in Sussex Co., New Jersey, September 21, 1838; d. at Oswego, Tioga Co., New York, February 24, 1863; m. Rheuben Courtright, d. 1914, a R. R. man, who m. 2nd time.

44. Peter Decker, b. in Sussex Co., New Jersey, February 4, 1841; d. October 19, 1864; m. Mary VanGorder, leaving immediately after marriage for the front (see Soldiers). No children.

45.—Joshua Decker, b. January 6, 1843.

46.—George M. Decker, b. October 15, 1844.

47.—John E. Decker, b. January 12, 1846.

48.—Emma Frances Decker, b. August 18, 1847.

49. Elias Decker, b. in Sussex Co., New Jersey, October 26, 1850; unm.; lives at 6318 Yale Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Painter by trade.

50.—Sarah M. Decker, b. July 2, 1852.

51. Mary Etta Decker, b. in Sussex Co., New Jersey, May 2, 1854; d. between 1874 and '84; unm.

52.—David Reeves Decker, b. March 4, 1857.

21. Isaac Bedell Cortright (same descendant as 20), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, April 18, 1813; bap. in Minissink Dutch Reformed Church, November 18, 1813; d., buried at Jacksonville, Florida; m. at Abbeville, South Carolina, December 16, 1847, Lizzie Ann Floride Kingsmore; b. in 1832; d. in Anderson, South Carolina, in 1901.

When first married they lived in South Carolina, then went to Sterling, Illinois, living there a year or so, then going back south. He was a tailor by trade. She married the second time and her two children took the name of her husband, Norryce.

They had three children:

53. John Clarridge Courtright, b. October 4, 1850; d. young.

54.—Mary Janet Courtright (Norryce), b. August 15, 1852.

55.—Louis Edwin Courtright (Norryce), b. November 10, 1856.

22. Catherine Cortright (same descent as 20), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, January 7, 1815; d. at the home of her daughter in Omaha, Nebraska, January 6, 1909; m. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, December 25, 1833, William Bradford Woolley, b. in DeRuyter, New York, March 16, 1808; d. at Yankton, South Dakota, May 12, 1889, son of Miles Treadwell Woolley and Susan Morey of Madison Co., New York.

William B. Woolley was raised in Madison Co., New York, but went to Sussex Co., New Jersey, to work at his trade, carpentering, and there met Catherine Cortright and married her. They lived in Sussex Co., New Jersey, until 1838 or '39, when they moved to DeRuyter, New York, living there until 1853, when they moved to Whiteside Co., Illinois, settling on a farm in Clyde twp. In 1886 they moved to Yankton, South Dakota, and both are buried there. After her husband's death, Catherine made her home with her daughter in Omaha, Nebraska.

They had three children:

56.—Arminda Woolley, b. July 21, 1837.

57.—Miles Treadwell Woolley, b. January 15, 1840.

58.—Mary Amelia Woolley, b. October 29, 1841.

65.—Jane Siddles, b. February 12, 1853.

66.—Etta Siddles, b. November 3, 1854.

25. William H. Courtright (same descent as 20), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, April 26, 1820; d. in Morrison, Illinois, September 16, 1890; buried in Hickory

Grove cemetery; m. at Pompey Hill, New Jersey, December 22, 1842, Mary Trauger, b. at Pompey Hill, New Jersey, July 25, 1825; d. at Morrison, Illinois, March 28, 1899; dau. of Lewis Trauger and Elizabeth Adams, of Bucks Co., Pennsylvania, of German descent, and a twin sister of John Courtright's wife. She was buried by the side of her husband in Hickory Grove cemetery.

After his marriage William Courtright lived five years in Sussex Co., New Jersey, then moved to Lucerne Co., Pennsylvania, living there five years. In 1852 he moved with his family and his brother John and his family to Whiteside Co., Illinois. The two brothers bought a farm together, but later dissolved the partnership and William bought another farm, where he lived until he moved to the town of Morrison in the spring of 1890.

In politics William Courtright was a Republican until 1880, when he became a Prohibitionist, being very earnest in the work for temperance, holding political rallies on the lawn of his country home. He was prominent in the M. E. Church, of which he was a life-long member, being class leader and member of the church board for years, both in Morrison and in the Hickory Grove Church, which he helped materially to build in 1863, both with work and money. His wife was also prominent in the community in which they lived, being a midwife and neighborhood nurse.

They had eleven children:

- 67.—Henry T. Courtright, b. February 11, 1844.
- 68.—Sarah Elizabeth Courtright, b. August 11, 1845.
69. John G. Courtright, b. March 16, 1847; d. November 14, 1847.

75. Wilber B. Courtright, b. October 7, 1863; d. December 24, 1863.
76. Mary Anna May Courtright, b. February 14, 1866 (see No. 52).
- 77.—Emma Ophelia Courtright, b. January 24, 1868.

26. Margaret Cortright (same descent as 20), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, February 6, 1822; d. at Sterling, Illinois, February, 1912; m. in 1840, Benjamin Franklin Woolley, b. May 10, 1810; d. at Sterling, Illinois, December 11, 1872, son of Miles Treadwell Woolley and Susan Morey of Madison Co., New York.

Margaret Cortright lived with her parents in Sussex Co., New Jersey, and after her sister, Catherine Woolley, moved to Madison Co., New York, she went to visit her and met her sister's brother-in-law and married him. After their marriage they lived in Onandago Co., New York, until 1850, when they moved to Whiteside Co., Illinois, traveling from Chicago with an ox team. They were the first of the Courtrights or Woolleys to go to that locality and bought a farm from the government in New Genesee twp. and built a log house on it.

They had seven children:

78.—Francis Martin Woolley, b. May 22, 1841.

79.—Maria Ellen Woolley, b. March 7, 1843.

80.—Hartson Courtright Woolley, b. December 22, 1845.

81. Alonzo Alroy Woolley, b. August 16, 1848; d. March 19, 1865.

82.—Florence Aurilla Woolley, b. October 13, 1869.

83. Adolphus Alvin Woolley, d. aged 6.

84.—Benjamin DeLisle Woolley, b. December 5, 1863.

27. John Courtright (same descent as 20), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, October 10, 1823; d. at Sterling, Illinois, March 17, 1910, buried there; m. in Sussex Co., New Jersey, December 29, 1848. Sarah Ann Trauger, b. at Pompey Hill, New Jersey, July 25, 1825; d. at Sterling, Illinois, December 31, 1906, dau. of Lewis Trauger and Elizabeth Adams of Bucks Co., Pennsylvania, and twin sister of William Courtright's wife.

John Courtright learned the carpenter trade, which he followed for a number of years in New Jersey and the first summer in Illinois, where he moved with his wife and daughter in 1852, settling on a farm in New Genesee twp., Whiteside Co., paying three and a half dollars an acre for the land. He and his wife worked hard, lived frugally, and added to their property from time to time until at his death his holdings were extensive and valuable in Illinois as well as in North Dakota and Kansas. John and his wife left their farm in 1891 and moved to the town of Sterling and there lived until their deaths.

They had two children:

85.—Amanda Jane Courtright, b. July 4, 1850.

86. Lester W. Courtright, b. in Illinois, January 24, 1855; d. February 1, 1861, buried in Hickory Grove cemetery.

28. Deborah Elizabeth Cortright (same descent as 20), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, March 18, 1827; d. at Lohrville, Iowa, March 12, 1887, buried there;

m. probably in Sussex Co., New Jersey, in 1849, Eli Griffin of Lucerne Co., Pennsylvania; b. May, 1829, still living at Lavina, Iowa, having married again.

Mr. Griffin was a carpenter and followed his trade all his life. After their marriage they lived in Lucerne Co., Pennsylvania, for two or three years, when they moved to Sterling, Illinois, and in 1871 to Seward, Nebraska, living there five years, then to Lohrville, Calhoun Co., Iowa.

They had nine children:

- 87.—Mary Griffin, b. December 3, 1849.
- 88. Phoebe Jane Griffin, d. in childhood.

They lived at Oswego, New York, then moved to White-side Co., Illinois, where they had a son born and died and buried in Hickory Grove cemetery. Later they moved to Hornersville, New York.

They had a daughter:

- 99. Alice Depue, b. in Oswego, New York; d. December 21, 1899; m. John W. Tilbury, a R. R. conductor; no children.

34. Levi Courtright (same descent as 20), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, January 27, 1840; d. at Coleta, Illinois, November 27, 1900, buried in Hickory Grove cemetery; m. at Coleta, Illinois, by the pioneer Methodist preacher, Peter Cartwright, December 24, 1861, Sarah P. Franklin, b. in Muskingum Co., Ohio, February 12, 1841, dau. of Simeon Franklin and Catherine Funk of Whiteside Co., Illinois.

Levi Courtright was a farmer all his life. The first few years after his marriage he rented, and in 1873 bought a farm in Whiteside Co., Illinois, where he lived until his death. In politics he was a Republican and the entire family were members of the Methodist church.

They had five children:

100.—Emma Viola Courtright, b. February 6, 1864.

101. Martha Courtright, b. in New Genesee twp., Whiteside Co., Illinois, July 7, 1867; m. at Morrison, Illinois, Thomas Howard Leester, b. December 31, 1866. She had six children. Lives on a farm near Cheppeway, Wisconsin.

Lydia Ann Cortright came with her parents to Whiteside Co., Illinois, in 1855 and lived on her father's farm until her marriage. After that she lived in the town of Sterling, where her husband held many county offices of trust. He served in the Civil War (see Soldiers).

They had four children:

108.—Florinda L. Howard, b. October 23, 1867.

109.—Herbert A. Howard, b. September 20, 1870.

110.—Maud E. Howard, b. January 15, 1873.

111. Leroy A. Howard, b. May 5, 1875; m. July 4, 1914, Molly Doersam.

38. Josephine Cortright (same descent as 20), b. in Sandyston twp. Sussex Co., New Jersey, October 20, 1850; m. in Whiteside Co., Illinois, by Rev. George S. Young, October 29, 1867. Henry B. Shively, b. at Lyndon, Illinois, December 12, 1853; d. at Peoria, Illinois, October 31, 1906, son of Samuel and Lucy (——) Shively.

Josephine Cortright lived with her parents in New Jersey and Illinois until her marriage and has seen many wonderful changes during her life; from the out-door Dutch oven on her father's farm in New Jersey to the wonderful feats performed in the air in Peoria in 1910 and 1914, when DeLoyd Thompson looped the loop with his biplane. It has also been her privilege to see two of the presidents of the United States, William McKinley, when he made an address at the unveiling of the soldiers' monument in Peoria and Theodore Roosevelt. She joined the Baptist church in July, 1868, at Fredericksburg, Chickasaw Co., Iowa, and was baptised by Rev. Goodrich, the pastor. Dr. William S. Pitts, the composer of the famous song, "The Church in the Wild-wood," led the choir that stood on the bank of the creek and sang during the baptism.

Henry B. Shively lived with his parents on their farm in Bremer Co., Iowa, until he was of age, when he went to Whiteside Co., Illinois, and learned the marble cutter's trade from his brother-in-law, R. B. Colcord. In March, 1868, he moved with his wife to Fredericksburg, Iowa, living there one year, then moved back to Whiteside Co., Illinois, settling at Lyndon and staying there about two years, then moving to Morrison, where they lived three years, he having a shop of his own and working at his trade. They returned to Lyndon and lived there until 1878, when they sold their home and moved to a farm in Dresden twp., Chickasaw Co.,

Iowa, near Fredericksburg, where they lived four years, then moved to Charles City, Iowa, where he worked for the Coral Marble Works for five years. In 1888 they moved to Peoria, Illinois, and he worked for the Peoria Marble Works until his death. Soon after going to Peoria they united with the Bethany Baptist church and Mr. Shively was a deacon and faithful worker in the church and Sunday school. In March, 1892, they moved to the home they had built at 3015 North Adams street, where Josephine now lives with their two unmarried sons, Raymond E. and Ernest C. Shively.

They had five children:

112.—Clarence Eugene Shively, b. April 13, 1869.

113.—Edwin Monroe Shively, b. April 1, 1873.

114. Raymond Everett Shively, b. at Lyndon, Whiteside Co., Illinois, March 24, 1877; unm.

115. Ernest C. Shively, b. in Dresden twp., Chickasaw Co., Iowa, November 9, 1880; unm.

116.—Grace Zela Shively, b. April 10, 1882.

39. Aaron D. Courtright (same descent as 20), b. in Sandyston twp., Sussex Co., New Jersey, December 2, 1852; m. 1st in Whiteside Co., Illinois, November 15, 1873, Sarah Ruth Wears, dau. of Hugh Wears and Mary ~~Bagle~~ Boyle of Hopkinstown twp., Whiteside Co., Illinois; m. 2nd in Boulder Co., Colorado, January 9, 1903, Mary Helen McCauley.

Aaron D. Courtright has had a checkered career, moving with his parents when only a little over two years old to Whiteside Co., Illinois. He lived there until the fall of 1875, working his father's farm after his marriage. Then he and his wife and baby moved in a wagon to Tama Co., Iowa, where they lived eleven years. In October, 1886, he moved with his family to Boulder Co., Colorado, and still lives there, being a market gardener at present, but has been a miner. After twenty-one years of married life, his wife tired of him and left him and married again. Aaron's second venture in matrimony did not prove satisfactory, so, after one week and one day, they separated. He has traveled extensively in the west and owns eighty acres of well improved land in Camden Co., Missouri.

He had three sons by first wife:

117. Burton Ralph Courtright, b. in Whiteside Co., Illinois, June 24, 1875; lives with his father; unm.

118. Chester Arthur Courtright, b. in Tama Co., Iowa, November 15, 1881; lives at Portland, Texas; unm.

56. Armina Woolley (Jan 1, Arie 4, Samuel 11, Rheuben 17, Catherine (Courtright) Woolley 22), b. in Sussex Co., New Jersey, July 21, 1837; d. in Liscomb twp. Marshall Co., Iowa, March 8, 1913; m. in Clyde twp., Whiteside Co., Illinois, March 6, 1856, Howland W. W. Head, b. in Madison Co., New York, March 6, 1834, son of Pardon Head and Phoebe Mitchell of Madison Co., New York.

Armina Woolley moved with her parents from Madison

Co., New York, to Whiteside Co., Illinois, in 1853. The first year she taught school in the country districts two terms and a half, but did not continue, as she became homesick and lonesome, as she was but sixteen years of age. Altho Arminda and her future husband lived in the same county and township in New York, they never met until later in Illinois. After their marriage they lived on their own farm in Clyde twp., Whiteside Co., Illinois, until 1869, when they sold their farm and moved to Marshall Co., Iowa, and bought a farm five miles northwest of Gilman, in Greencastle twp. They lived there until the spring of 1887, when they moved to the town of Gilman, and lived there until six weeks before Arminda's death, when they went to the home of their son Pardon in the north part of the county, where she died. Mr. Head makes his home with his son, near Liscomb, Iowa.

They had five children:

163.—Pardon Head, b. April 17, 1858.

164.—William Fremont Head, b. November 12, 1860.

165.—Henry Ward Head, b. January 12, 1863.

57. Myles Treadwell Woolley (same descent as 56), b. near DeRuyter, New York, January 10, 1840; d. at Hot Springs, South Dakota, of exposure and wounds received during his service in the army (see Soldiers), August 11, 1892, buried at Yankton, South Dakota; m. at Round Grove, Whiteside Co., Illinois, November 22, 1866, Ellen Stone, dau. of Payson Coolidge Stone and Philadelphia Roberts.

When about eleven years old Myles T. Woolley moved with his parents from Madison Co., New York, to Whiteside Co., Illinois. Early in his teens he entered Mt. Carroll Seminary at Mt. Carroll, Illinois, to study law, but his health failing, he was compelled to choose some profession less confining. He chose civil engineering, which he followed the remainder of his life. After recovering from his wound received in the war, he remained in Whiteside Co., Illinois, and was county surveyor for three years. In March, 1868, he moved with his wife and little son to Sioux City, Iowa, and in March, 1869, he went to Yankton, South Dakota, then Dakota Territory, where the present family home was established. He was one of the government surveyors and had much to do with the surveying of the Dakotas. He was a Mason of high standing, a member of the Phil Kearney Post, G. A. R., and held various positions of public trust. He established the Yankton Savings Bank in 1885 and was actively connected with the bank at the time of his death. In 1888 he received the appointment from Governor Louis K. Church as one of the trustees of the Hospital for the Insane at Yankton, which position he held for two years. Mrs. Woolley lives with her daughter, Harriett E., at their home at 300 Fifth street East, Yankton, South Dakota.

They had six children:

168.—Birney Coolidge Woolley, b. September 6, 1867.

169. Ossian Bradford Woolley, b. at Yankton, South Dakota, January 16, 1872; m. August 31, 1899, Katherine Hoffman, dau. of Georgiana Hoffman and Julia Boston. He received his education in the public school and college at Yankton. In 1901 they moved to Seattle, Washington, where he was connected with the Northwestern Steamship Co. He spent one year in Nome, Alaska, in the interests of that company. From 1905 to 1913 he was cashier of the Union Savings Bank in Seattle, and Renton, Washington. In 1913 he established a real estate business, in which he is now engaged.

170. Herbert Stone Woolley, b. in Yankton, South Dakota, December 20, 1873; m. at Tacoma, Washington, November 30, 1909, Annie McAllister, dau. of Daniel McAllister and Winnefred McDonough. October 22, 1904, son of Watson Parrish and Nancy Broodwell.

Delila Courtright was never strong. In her 'teens she suffered with St. Vitus Dance. She was married in her nineteenth year and suffered with the same trouble at the birth of each of her children for six or eight weeks, then would apparently be quite well. When her fourth child was about three years old she was stricken with nervous paralysis and had no use of her right side for five or six years. She learned to write, sew and generally use her left hand. During that time the family moved from Whiteside Co., Illinois, to Tama Co., Iowa, and lived on a farm near Traer. She had attacks of her old trouble and would be confined to her bed for weeks at a time. Finally she decided that she would pray to God to either heal her or take her to Himself. She prayed all day without ceasing and had her children kneel by the side of her bed and pray with her. About three o'clock in the afternoon she felt a shock go thru her right arm and she lifted it above her head and said, "Now, God, the whole body," when another shock went all thru her body and she arose from her bed and walked across the room, shouting and praising God for healing her, met her husband at the door when he returned from work, told him of the wonderful power of prayer. She was apparently well for about three years, doing all kinds of work, even helping with the outdoor farm work. When her fifth child was born the nervous trouble returned and the doctors, not knowing how to treat her, gave her medicine that made her delirious and she exposed herself, took cold and died.
